INTRODUCTION

This handbook is intended to provide information for Members of the Legislative Assembly in relation to parliamentary practice, pay and allowances, members' services generally and a short description of various legislative offices and facilities which function primarily to assist members in carrying out their duties in the assembly.

It must be emphasized that this handbook is not to be considered a definitive authority, but simply a guideline, and members are encouraged to consult the relevant statutes, orders-in-council and resource personnel in cases of uncertainty.

Initial inquiries in relation to pay and allowances may be made to the Legislative Comptroller (356-8586) and inquiries in relation to procedural matters may be made to the Office of the Clerk of the House (387-3785). Please address all requests for changes to the Members' Handbook to the Clerk of Committees (356-2933).

E. George MacMinn, Q.C.

PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Every Member of the Legislative Assembly is required by Section 24 of the Constitution Act to take and subscribe to an oath of allegiance, as follows:

I, _____, swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, [or her successor], her heirs and successors, according to law.

So help me God.

A member who conscientiously declines the taking of an oath may make a solemn affirmation or declaration instead. (S.24(2))

The Clerk of the Legislative Assembly administers the oath of allegiance to duly elected members after the return of the writs. Members are also required to sign the parliamentary roll before taking their seats in the House.

THE SPEAKER

The Speaker has procedural, administrative and ceremonial roles. In the Legislature, the Speaker presides over debates, maintains order and ensures that Members abide by the Standing Orders which govern conduct and procedures in the House. The Speaker also serves as the President of the British Columbia Branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association. Administratively, through the Clerk of the House, the Speaker is responsible for providing services to MLAs and overseeing the day-to-day operations of the Parliament Buildings; in this respect, the Speaker serves as Chair of the Legislative Assembly Management Committee composed of MLAs from all parties.

The Speaker is elected in a secret ballot by the other Members of the Legislative Assembly. The election of the Speaker is conducted in the Legislative Chamber and is presided over by the Clerk of the House.

To enable the Speaker to act with complete impartiality, the Speaker does not participate in debate or engage in partisan activities.

The Office of the Speaker is responsible for the management of the Speaker's budget and provides information to Members and staff, the media and general public on a wide range of issues and concerns. The Office also coordinates protocol duties required of the Speaker and/or Members for visiting delegations, official visitors and Consular representatives from other jurisdictions.

SPEAKER'S PROCESSION

Each daily sitting begins with the entrance into the Chamber of the Speaker, preceded by the Sergeant-at-Arms and followed by the Clerks. Five minutes prior to sitting time, the Sergeant-at-Arms rings the division bells, calling the members into the Assembly.

All members and observers in the galleries rise upon the entrance of the Speaker's procession. The Sergeant-at-Arms carries the Mace and places it upon the Table. The Mace is the symbol of the authority of the House and, through the House, of the Speaker. When it is in place, the House is duly authorized to function and proceedings can begin.

The Speaker, dressed in a black robe and tricorn hat, opens the sitting with prayers, after which all members take their seats.

THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE

The Clerk is the chief permanent officer of the Legislative Assembly and in addition to the duties specified by the Standing Orders, is responsible for:

1. Maintaining the records of all parliamentary business conducted, and for the custody of all parliamentary papers;

2. Providing assistance and advice on parliamentary procedure to the Speaker and all members of the House;
3. Management and administrative services within the Assembly;
4. Coordinating the business of the Assembly;
5. Preparing Orders of the Day and Votes and Proceedings and supervising the production of the Journals of the House;
6. Various other duties imposed by statute;
7. Advising on protocol arrangements for legislative functions and ceremonies, parliamentary visits and is secretary of the British Columbia branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association;
8. Presiding over the election of the Speaker;
9. Acting as Disclosure Clerk pursuant to the Financial Disclosure Act; and
10. Administering the Oath of Allegiance to duly elected members.

The Office of the Clerk may be consulted at any time regarding procedural and House matters (387-3785).

The Clerk of the House, E. George MacMinn, Q.C., is assisted in his duties by the other Table Officers:

Robert Vaive, Clerk Assistant

Ian D. Izard, Q.C., Law Clerk and Clerk Assistant

Craig H. James, Clerk Assistant and Clerk of Committees

Kate Ryan-Lloyd, Clerk Assistant and Committee Clerk

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

The appointment of Sergeant-at-Arms has its origins in early English parliamentary history. By tradition, the Sergeant-at-Arms sits beside the Bar of the House, at the main entrance. Today the functions are associated with the ceremony of Parliament, the preservation of order and enforcing the orders emanating from the Chair. Some of the duties performed by the Sergeant-at-Arms in British Columbia include: custody of the Mace and the furnishings of the chamber; attendance in the chamber while the House is sitting, by himself or his deputies; management of security within the legislative precinct; supervision of the chamber attendants, pages, doorkeepers, gallery staff and legislative security officers; mail and supplies distribution, and other administrative functions required by the Speaker or by the House.

The Sergeant-at-Arms may take into custody, upon the direction of the Speaker, any strangers or members who misconduct themselves in the galleries or the House.

The Sergeant-at-Arms is Anthony A. Humphreys, who is assisted by the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms, David V. Adamthwaite, and the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms (Security), R. Brian Harlow.

THE STANDING ORDERS

The Legislative Assembly of British Columbia is governed by a system of rules, practices and traditions, many of which were adopted from the United Kingdom Parliament at Westminster. The majority of those rules are contained in the Standing Orders can be found at <http://www.leg.bc.ca>.

The primary purpose of parliamentary procedure is to expedite the business of the Assembly while ensuring the right of all members to participate in the parliamentary process. The standard authorities on parliamentary practice as applied in British Columbia, such as Sir Erskine May's Parliamentary Practice and MacMinn's Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, Third Edition, are available in the Legislative Library and in the Chamber. All members are entitled to a copy of Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, which can be obtained from the Clerk's office.

OPENING OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

By a proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor, upon the advice of executive council, the Members of the Legislative Assembly are summoned to meet. After a general election, one of the first acts the Legislative Assembly must perform is the election of one of its members as Speaker. Once the Speaker is chosen, the Lieutenant Governor reads the Speech from the Throne. The reasons for summoning the Legislative Assembly and the broad outline of the executive's proposed legislation are contained in the Speech from the Throne.

ADDRESS IN REPLY

After the Speech from the Throne, a motion is moved and seconded thanking the Lieutenant Governor for the presentation of the speech. The ensuing debate, called the Address in Reply, does not exceed six sitting days. It is an opportunity for all members of the House to debate the issues raised in the Speech from the Throne.

BUDGET DEBATE

During the spring session of the Legislature, the Minister of Finance tables the estimates for the forthcoming fiscal year. On the same day, the Minister presents the Budget Address, which is an overview of the financial position of the province and a presentation of the government's financial policies and programs for the next fiscal year. The minister concludes by moving "That the Speaker do now leave the chair for the House to go into Committee of Supply." The debate in the House on this motion is called the Budget Debate, which lasts a maximum of six sitting days and at least eight sittings.

This is a general debate, similar to the Address in Reply, and focuses on the financial policies and programs of the government. At the conclusion of the debate, the Assembly resolves itself into the Committee of Supply in order to consider the estimates.

During the estimates process, members of the House have an opportunity to question each minister on his or her departmental spending record for the past year and the spending proposals for the ensuing fiscal year.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

This is a motion by which the Legislative Assembly expresses its support for the government. Votes on the Address in Reply and on the Budget Debate are deemed to be votes of confidence. If the government loses a vote of confidence, it is said to have lost the confidence of the Legislative Assembly and is expected to resign.

INTERIM SUPPLY

When all estimates have not been passed by the Legislative Assembly before the end of the fiscal year (which is March 31), an interim supply bill is introduced in the Assembly in order for the government to meet its financial commitments. This bill grants a proportion of the budget as a temporary measure until the full estimates have been approved. The passage of an interim supply bill does not preclude the Members of the Legislative Assembly from questioning any part of the estimates or from moving motions to reduce any specific vote. There may be one or more interim supply acts.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES

Subsequent to the passing of all the estimates, should, during the fiscal year, amounts passed in the main estimates prove insufficient, the government may ask the Legislative Assembly to approve additional expenditures set out in the supplementary estimates. These may be introduced in a year as often as deemed necessary.

SUPPLY BILL

Once the Committee of Supply has completed its review of the estimates, the Minister of Finance will present a Supply Act to authorize the Budget expenditure. (See Practice Recommendation No. 10 in the Standing Orders.)

NOTICE

In order that members can be fully prepared when matters are called for debate in the House, two days' notice is required for important House business (e.g., motions) but may be waived by unanimous consent.

The Standing Orders of the Assembly require two days' notice to be given:

1. To present a bill, resolution or address but not a message bill (government bill).
2. For the appointment of any committee.
3. For the suspension of the Standing Orders.
4. For the motion to amend the motion on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne.
5. For the motion to amend the Budget Debate motion.

Standing Order 48, which governs the notice provisions, does not apply to bills after their introduction, or to government bills, or to private bills, or to the times of the meeting or adjournment of the House, or to a motion to proceed to Orders of the Day. When notice is required, it must be laid on the Table before adjournment and be printed in the Votes and Proceedings of that day.

A member gives notice of a motion or question by handing to the Table a signed and dated "Notice of Question" or "Notice of Motion" form containing the text of the question or motion. The forms are available at the Table in the chamber and from the Office of the Clerk. Notices are accepted at the Table only while the House is sitting.

Notices are printed in the Votes and Proceedings of each day before they appear on the Orders of the Day.

BILLS

The Assembly legislates by way of acts which begin as bills. Bills are one of three types: government bills, members' bills or private bills.

Government bill — Government bills, which reflect the policy of the government, are introduced by a Minister of the Crown and may originate in a government department. They may create a new act, amend or repeal an existing act or consolidate provisions of various acts. In British Columbia, government bills are invariably introduced on message containing a Crown recommendation from the Lieutenant Governor. The Crown recommendation and message are required under the Constitution Act in matters involving appropriation of public funds and taxation. A message may be used for other purposes and is receivable at any time without notice. Numbers 1 – 199 are reserved for government bills.

Members' bill — Members' bills are similar to government bills, although introduced by a private member who is either a backbencher or a member of the opposition.

Limitations exist on the content of members' bills in that they cannot create an offence, impose a penalty, alter the constitution, propose expenditure or an obligation on the Crown, etc., as these areas are reserved for government bills. Introduction of a member's bill requires two days' notice, and the numbers M 200 – M 399 are reserved for members' bills. A private member cannot obtain a message from the Lieutenant Governor.

Private bill — Private bills are applied for on petition by an individual(s), an association, company or other group, for a legislative enactment which is an exception to the general law. The application is made by way of petition sponsored by a member of the House and must be advertised to afford affected parties an opportunity to contest the application where appropriate. Because of the unique nature of a private bill in conferring benefits on a limited group it cannot proceed to second reading until the Private Bills Committee has approved the rationale for the bill. Examples of private acts include an act which would grant expropriation powers to a utility company for right-of-way, and the Vancouver Charter which incorporated the City of Vancouver prior to the passage of the Municipal Act. The applicant must pay a fee of $500 and pay for printing of the bill as well as advertising. The numbers Pr 400 – Pr 500 are reserved for private bills. Once approved by the Private Bills Committee, a private bill is dealt with in the same fashion as a government or member's bill.

The passage of a bill into law — A bill, when considered by the assembly, must pass through a number of stages to become law. The sequence and passage of a bill is as follows:

Introduction and first reading — A bill is introduced either "on message" or following two days' notice on the order paper. The member having conduct of the bill introduces the bill and moves that it be read a first time. No debate is allowed and a vote is taken, although invariably introduction is a formality. The member having conduct of the bill is permitted to make a two-minute statement outlining the purpose and intent of the bill. A second motion is then moved that the bill be placed on the Orders of the Day for second reading. When introduced, government bills are authorized for release by the Law Clerk. Members' bills are submitted at the time of introduction and distributed following printing.

Second reading — When a bill is called for second reading, the member having conduct of the bill moves that it be read a second time now and a debate then ensues on the principle of the bill. Dilatory delay motions may be moved, such as the stylized "six-month hoist", and the member who moves the motion has a right of reply after all other members have spoken in debate. When the vote passes for second reading, the bill is then referred to a committee (usually the Committee of the Whole), for consideration on a later day.

Committee stage — During the committee stage, the bill is considered clause by clause with a separate vote being taken on each clause, any schedules, any preamble and the title. It is at the committee stage that amendments may be moved.

It is not obligatory that notice of amendments be given on the Order Paper but it is both a courtesy to other members and a convenience which expedites understanding of the amendment before the committee. When a section is under consideration the amendments are moved by the party proposing them, and the question is called on the amendment before the question on the (amended) section is called. When all of the contents of the bill have been approved with or without amendment, the Chair of the committee is authorized to report the bill back to the House. The principle of the bill, having been approved at second reading, is not re-canvassed in committee.

Report stage — When a bill has been amended, the Law Clerk arranges for reprinting of the amended version by Legislative Counsel and the Queen's Printer. Standing Order 80 requires that the bill be reprinted with the amendments before it is read a third time. A red-lining technique is used to show portions of the bill deleted or added.

Third reading — Where a bill is not amended, it is customarily called for third reading immediately after the report of the committee is received. If the bill has been amended, unanimous consent would be required to proceed to third reading prior to reprinting. The third reading stage is commenced with a motion by the member having conduct of the bill and completed by a vote on the motion. When the bill has been read a third time the Speaker pronounces that it "is an Act".

Royal Assent — An act of the Legislative Assembly does not become law until it has received Royal Assent by the Lieutenant Governor. Royal Assent is given in the chamber with the titles to acts being read out by the Clerk of the House, or his designate, and Royal Assent pronounced by the Clerk.

A law comes into effect — Although an act has received Royal Assent, it is necessary to examine its content to determine when it comes into effect. If the bill is silent on the date of commencement, it comes into effect on the date of Royal Assent. If the bill contains a date on which it comes into effect, even if retroactive, it comes into effect on that date. If a bill contains a provision that allows it to come into effect on a date to be fixed by regulation of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, it comes into effect on the date fixed by regulation.

FORM OF PROCEEDINGS

The text of the motions to be moved by a member having conduct of a bill is contained in Appendix G of Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, and is available from the Office of the Clerk.

MOTIONS

A motion is the vehicle that permits the House to speak. Almost without exception, without a motion, the House is unable to transact business.

A motion is a proposal made by a member, subject to the Standing Orders, that the Assembly do something, or order something to be done, or express an opinion. Once a motion has been moved, submitted in writing to the Chair and found to be in order, it may be, subject to the Standing Orders, debated, amended, adopted, negatived or withdrawn, as the Assembly may decide. Every motion, once adopted, assumes the form of either an "order" or a "resolution" of the assembly.

PETITIONS

A fundamental concept of parliamentary democracy is the right of the public to have access to parliament by way of petition. A petition can be from an individual or group and can relate to the passage of a bill or the government's consideration of an important public issue.

Since the Legislative Assembly is a representative institution, it considers only those matters submitted to it by its members, and petitions are no exception.

The form of petition is prescribed by the Standing Orders:

To the Honourable the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia, in Legislature Assembled:

The petition of the undersigned, [name of person or group seeking redress] of the [city, town or area], states that: [here state the object of the petition, briefly setting forth the reasons therefore].

Your petitioners respectfully request that the Honourable House [take such action as may be deemed appropriate].

Dated _____ day of _____, 20__.

(Signatures)

Members of the Legislative Assembly are accountable for the content of a petition.

PRIVATE MEMBERS' STATEMENTS

As described in Standing Order 25B, up to six private members may make two-minute statements prior to Question Period on a topic of their choice. Members statements are subject to the usual parliamentary rules of decorum and debate

ORAL QUESTIONS

The Standing Orders of the Legislative Assembly provide for a 30-minute oral question period at the beginning of each of four sitting days per week (See Standing Order 47A). The rules and practices governing question period are set out in Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, Third Edition, pp. 107 – 112.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

Another means by which a member can obtain information from the government is through the use of written questions which call for written replies. Two days' notice is required to place a question on the Order Paper. Written questions seek information from Ministers of the Crown relating to current issues within their mandate.

DECORUM IN THE ASSEMBLY

Not all of the standard practices of the Legislative Assembly are contained in the formal rules of procedure, known as the Standing Orders. Some are customs and usage.

1. Members must be attired in appropriate dress.
2. Members may speak only from their own desk; they must rise and address themselves to the Speaker.
3. When the Speaker is standing or is putting a question, no member may enter, walk out of or across the Assembly or make any noise or disturbance.
4. A member must not pass between a member speaking and the Chair.
5. A member must not pass between the Chair and the Mace.
6. It is customary to bow to the Chair when leaving or returning to the chamber.
7. When it is necessary for a member to confer with a member on the opposite side of the House, the member may have a Page convey a message to the intended member. Members are expected to confer quietly while in the chamber. It is the practice to bow to the Chair when passing the central point in front of the bar.
8. When the Assembly adjourns, members shall keep their seats until the Speaker's procession has left the chamber.
9. Smoking is not permitted in the Legislative Assembly precinct.
10. No food or drink is permitted in the chamber.
11. A member signifies a request for the services of a Page by raising his or her hand.
12. Persons other than Members, Officers of the House and chamber attendants are not allowed on the floor of the Assembly without the express permission of the Speaker.

13. Electronic and photographic equipment, other than laptop computers, smartphones, Blackberry devices and Palm handhelds, cannot be brought into the chamber without the approval of the Speaker. Any permitted electronic devices must be operated silently and pursuant to guidelines issued by the Speaker.
14. Members may not use displays or props of any kind to illustrate their remarks.
15. During the taking of a vote, members must be in their seats to vote and must remain at their desk until the result of the vote is announced.

USE OF ELECTRONIC DEVICES IN THE CHAMBER AND IN COMMITTEES

Since January 2002, laptops have been permitted in the Legislative Chamber. Electronic devices (laptop computers, smartphones, Blackberry devices and Palm handhelds) may be used by Members in the Chamber to access textual information via the Legislative Assembly network and the Internet. Recently, this use was also extended to Sections A/B of Committee of Supply and Select Standing and special Committees. In both the Chamber and the Douglas Fir Committee Room, network connections are provided. However, AC power connections shall not be used, therefore laptops require battery operation. Electronic devices must be programmed to operate silently in order to avoid disruption in the Chamber and Committees. Members must preserve the decorum of the Legislature and Committees at all times.

Electronic devices may not be used by a member who has the floor or is involved in the exchange of remarks.

On a trial basis, Ministry officials who may be present during Committee of Supply or Committee of the Whole proceedings are authorized to use handheld devices, but not laptop computers.

The use of computers will not be allowed at the following times:

- during prayers
- during Question Period
- Point of Order
- Point of Privilege
- Speaker's Ruling
- during votes (divisions)
- during Throne Speech
- during Budget Speech
- during Royal Assent
- when the Premier or Leader of the Official Opposition is speaking to the Throne Speech or the Budget Speech
- any other designated time pursuant to instruction by the Speaker

DECORUM IN THE GALLERIES

It is the duty of the staff under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms to maintain order in the galleries. Visitors are not permitted to carry with them briefcases or packages. Visitors are not permitted to smoke, to make notes or tape recordings or to take pictures of the Assembly in session.

RULES OF DEBATE

A member, while speaking in the Assembly, must not:

1. Refer to any debate in the same session on any question not then under discussion;
2. Refer to any matter on which a judicial decision is pending;
3. Anticipate discussion on a motion set down for future consideration;
4. Refer to any member by name (a member should be referred to as "the member for [name of the constituency]");
5. Make a personal charge against a member;

6. Use their right of speech for the purpose of obstructing the business of the House;
7. Reflect upon the past acts and proceedings of the House;
8. Read a prepared speech, but may refer to notes;
9. Denigrate the Crown or Her Majesty's representatives; and
10. Use unparliamentary language.

DECORUM IN COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE

When the Assembly resolves itself into a Committee of the Whole for bills or supply, the Speaker leaves the chair, the Mace is lowered to a position beneath the Table, and the Chairperson presides over the committee from the Table. The Standing Orders of the House are applicable in committee, with the exception that members can speak more than once to a question in a committee.

PRIVATE MEMBERS' TIME

Pursuant to Standing Order 25, the House proceeds to Private Members' Time every Monday morning from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

The first hour of Private Members' Time provides that four Private Members may make a statement within the following time allocations:

Proponent: maximum of 7 minutes

Any other Members: maximum of 5 minutes

Proponent in reply: maximum of 3 minutes

Notice of a statement must be tabled no later than 6:00 p.m. the preceding Wednesday.

Other Private Members' Time business items which may be considered during 11:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon are:

- Public Bills in the Hands of Private Members
- Private Members' Motions
- Private Bills
- Throne Speech Debate

- Budget Debate including Committee of Supply
- Public Bills and Orders and Government Motions on Notice

No division on these proceedings will be taken in the House or in Committee of the Whole during Private Members' Time. If a division is requested, it is deferred until 30 minutes prior to the ordinary adjournment time of the House on the Monday, unless otherwise ordered.

ADJOURNMENT, PROROGATION AND DISSOLUTION

The period of time between general elections is called a "parliament." A session may be described as the "first session of the thirty-seventh parliament." This means that there have been thirty-six general elections since the establishment of the province. A parliament is concluded by "dissolution." A proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor is required to dissolve the Legislative Assembly (parliament). Upon dissolution, members cease to be Members of the Legislative Assembly and all committees and all business of the Assembly dies. Dissolution is followed by the calling of a general election to elect a new Legislative Assembly and the parliamentary cycle begins once more.

The daily meeting of the Assembly is called a "sitting," and the sitting is concluded by the "adjournment" of the House. All business not concluded at the time of adjournment stands over until the following sitting. A session is a period of time into which a parliament is divided and consists of a number of separate sittings. A session begins with the Speech from the Throne and ends with prorogation of the session or dissolution of parliament. There may be any number of sessions during a parliament. Upon the conclusion of the session's business, the Lieutenant Governor declares that the session is prorogued. Any business not completed before prorogation dies on the Order Paper.

An adjournment is the termination of a sitting and covers the period between the end of one sitting and the beginning of the next. It can be of varying duration, i.e. a few hours, overnight, a weekend, weeks, or months.

PARLIAMENTARY PUBLICATIONS

PUBLICATION OF ACTS

Acts of the Legislative Assembly are published each year in print and electronic form. A consolidated version of the Revised Statutes of British Columbia is updated annually and available in loose-leaf form. From time to time, most recently in 1996, all of the public acts were revised and republished. Printed acts are obtained from Crown Publications.

ELECTRONIC STATUTES

Beginning with the 1992 legislative year, by arrangement between the Law Clerk, Legislative Counsel and the Queen's Printer, the Consolidated Statutes of British Columbia loose-leaf edition has been reproduced in electronic form and is available on the Legislative Assembly website as well as on QP LegalEze. QP LegalEze provides a subscription-based web service which includes statutes and regulations updated on an on-going basis. QP LegalEze can be accessed at <http://www.qplegaleze.ca>.

INTERNET

The Legislative Assembly Website can be found at <http://www.leg.bc.ca> and contains details regarding the Legislative Assembly, Public Outreach and Education and official documents. Bills, Orders of the Day, Votes and Proceedings, Hansard and Committee Proceedings and its indexes are available on the Internet.

INTRANET

The Legislative Assembly Intranet site contains links to the Internet, Departmental Information, BC Government Telephone Book and Folio info bases.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Order Paper is the official agenda of the House. Published by the Office of the Clerk for each sitting day, the Order Paper provides a comprehensive overview of the status of business before the Legislature. Its listings include the status of legislation, debates, motions and resolutions, as well as written questions directed to ministers.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

The Votes and Proceedings are minutes of the proceedings of the Legislative Assembly and are the record of any matters considered by the House and of any decisions taken by the House. The Votes and Proceedings record all motions moved in the House; the proceedings in Committees of the Whole House, including the Committee of Supply; the introduction of and proceedings on all bills, petitions, sessional papers and committee reports presented to the House; messages from the Lieutenant Governor; statements and rulings of the Speaker; the names of the members voting on each side of a question when a recorded vote is requested; the written questions which the government has answered; and the times of the meeting and adjournment of the House.

In those cases where two days' notice is expressly required, the notice will be printed in the Votes and Proceedings of each day before it appears in the Orders of the Day.

The status of legislation is appended to the Votes and Proceedings. This section records all the bills introduced in the current session, the bill numbers and titles, the names of sponsors and the progress to date (i.e., date of first, second and third readings, referral to committee and date of royal assent).

The Votes and Proceedings are published by the Office of the Clerk and are available in the morning of the day following every day on which the House meets. A copy of the Votes and Proceedings is also delivered to the desk of every member in the legislative chamber.

The Votes and Proceedings are a provisional record of the proceedings of the House and are edited, indexed and bound at the end of each session and issued as the Journals. The Journals are the formal and permanent record of the proceedings of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEES

Parliamentary committees consider matters which are referred to them by the Legislative Assembly. Within its terms of reference, each committee is afforded total independence in its deliberations.

A Special Committee of Selection determines the composition of select standing committees, although additions and substitutions have been made by motion in the House.

The following comprise the list of select standing committees pursuant to Standing Order 68 and, in the case of Legislative Initiatives, by statute:

1. Aboriginal Affairs;
2. Children and Youth;
3. Crown Corporations;
4. Education;
5. Finance and Government Services;
6. Health;
7. Parliamentary Reform, Ethical Conduct, Standing Orders and Private Bills;
8. Public Accounts; and
9. Legislative Initiatives.

In addition, special committees may be constituted to undertake special tasks, such as the Special Committee to Review the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

Each committee elects a chairperson and a deputy chairperson; where applicable, observes the Standing Orders of the House; and reports directly to the Legislative Assembly. The committee system allows for more detailed analysis of a matter referred to it than is available in the House or a Committee of the Whole.

For further information on parliamentary committees, contact Mr. Craig James, Clerk Assistant and Clerk of Committees, Room 224 (250-356-2933 or ClerkComm@leg.bc.ca).

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

The Legislative Management Committee is composed of:

- The Speaker (Chairperson)
- The Minister (or designate)
- Government House Leader (or designate)
- Official Opposition House Leader (or designate)
- Government Caucus Chairperson (or designate)
- Official Opposition Caucus Chairperson (or designate)
- One member representing each additional opposition party
- One member of the government caucus for each opposition party representative other than the official opposition.

The Committee's powers and duties, derived from the Legislative Assembly Management Committee Act, relate to:

- (a) policies for the administration of the Legislative Assembly and for the conduct of the Members of the Legislative Assembly;

- (b) the provision of security, facilities and services, including allocation within the legislative precinct;
- (c) the appointment, supervision and management of staff of the Legislative Assembly, other than permanent officers of the Legislative Assembly;
- (d) review of estimates of expenditure for the Legislative Assembly under vote 1, including the preparation of forecasts and analyses of expenditures and commitments of the Legislative Assembly;
- (e) payments to Members of the Legislative Assembly to defray expenses in the performance of their duties;
- (f) payments or services to members for constituency offices, including payments or services for staffing, maintaining the offices, communication expenses and travel expenses; and
- (g) other matters necessary for the efficient and effective operation and management of the Legislative Assembly.

HANSARD SERVICES

Hansard Services consists of two primary service units: Hansard Print Production, which produces transcripts of House and committee proceedings; and Hansard Broadcasting, which televises and/or webcasts House and committee events. Hansard Services functions under the authority of the Speaker of the House.

PRINT PRODUCTION

Transcript Production

"[Hansard] is a full report, in the first person, of all speakers alike, which, though not strictly verbatim, is substantially the verbatim report, with repetitions and redundancies omitted and with obvious mistakes corrected, but which on the other hand leaves out nothing that adds to the meaning of the speech or illustrates the argument."

Hansard transcripts can be found at the following link <http://www.leg.bc.ca/hansard/>, then clicking the link "Hansard."

A preliminary draft transcript called the Blues is also produced for each sitting. The on-line Blues are posted on the Internet at <http://www.leg.bc.ca/hansard/8-8.htm> on an ongoing basis throughout a sitting, and the complete Blues are typically available on line approximately one hour after adjournment. Printed copies of Blues are delivered to members between 1 and 2 p.m. for morning sittings and by 9 a.m. the following day for afternoon sittings. The on-line preliminary Blues will be replaced by an updated draft transcript by 11:30 a.m. on the day following a sitting.

Members are encouraged to review the Blues and advise Hansard Services if they believe anything they said has been inaccurately reported. Members should confine themselves to correcting mishearings or other errors in transcription and may not polish, improve or otherwise rewrite their speeches. All corrections are subject to approval in accordance with Hansard's substantially verbatim guidelines. Members with corrections should contact Hansard Services by e-mail at Hansard.Corrections@leg.bc.ca, by fax at 356-5681, by phone at 387-3681 or by delivering them to 612 Government Street. Corrections must be received no later than 4 p.m. the day after the sitting in question to ensure their requests are reviewed prior to the publication of the sitting's official report.

Hansard is published for each sitting of the House. Members receive printed copies of each report on a subscription basis, and a small number of finals are delivered to the chamber. The final transcript is published on the second morning after each sitting.

Any assistance that members and their staff can give Hansard Services in ensuring the accuracy of names, titles, technical terms and quotations is appreciated, particularly when visitors in the gallery are introduced. A Hansard notepad is located in each member's desk for this purpose, and Sergeant-at-Arms staff or Pages will deliver the notes to Hansard Services. In order to meet our production deadlines, Hansard Services research staff will often directly contact members' offices with requests for this information. Members are also encouraged to provide Hansard Services with copies of any material they read out in the House. Chamber Pages can also deliver this material to Hansard Services. Materials will be returned as soon as possible, and members are assured that Hansard Services staff are sworn to keep private information confidential.

On the request of each select standing and special committee of the Legislature, committee meetings are recorded and published in a manner similar to that for House proceedings. Hansard Services staff prepare these transcripts on a second-priority basis. Transcripts for "Legislative Committees" can be found at <http://www.leg.bc.ca/cmt>.

Indexing

Indexes and other reference materials, including members' voting records, for House transcripts are available on the Hansard website by clicking the link "Indexes." Complete subject and members' indexes are produced on a sessional basis. A cumulative index of the main items of House business is posted daily during the session. All sessional indexes from 1970 to the present are available on line, with page locators hyperlinked to the electronic Hansard transcripts. Indexes for select standing and special committees are available on each committee's homepage. Most day-to-day queries about events that have occurred in the House can be answered using the on-line indexes or the website search engine.

If members or their staff require further assistance, they may contact Hansard Services at 387-3681.

AUDIO

The Hansard Console Operator in the chamber gallery booth and in the Douglas Fir Committee Room controls both the audio and video recording of speeches and chamber sound. The operator's responsibility is to:

1. Switch microphones and television cameras from one member to another upon members being recognized by the Chair. Only one member's microphone can be live at one time. When a microphone is live, a red indicator light near the top of the microphone is illuminated.
2. Maintain appropriate sound-volume levels.
3. Repeat interjections and House business information into an operator microphone for the benefit of the record. (Only those interjections responded to by the member in possession of the floor are included in the report.)
4. Time speeches according to rules laid out in Standing Orders.

Public meetings of Select Standing Committees, wherever they occur in the province, are also recorded for transcription purposes and webstreamed live over the Internet. Annotations of speakers, times, key words and orders of business are produced to support the transcription process.

BROADCASTING SERVICES

Hansard Broadcasting, Webcasting and Podcasting

All proceedings of the House are broadcast live throughout the province by satellite and webcast over the Internet. Committee of Supply proceedings in the Douglas Fir Room are also webcast live over the Internet and broadcast at the conclusion of morning and afternoon sittings. Audio-only podcasts of Oral Question Period are also available on the Internet. For more information on channel guides, broadcast schedules and links to podcasts and live and archived webcasts, please go to the Hansard home page at <http://www.leg.bc.ca/hansard>.

Broadcasting Guidelines

The broadcasting guidelines ensure that the dignity of the House is respected. The following are the specific rules regulating cameras in the chamber.

1. The television and webcast coverage of the debates of the Legislature will be accurate, factual and complete and will in no way attempt to editorialize or dramatize the proceedings.
2. All proceedings in the Legislature, from the Speaker's procession until the adjournment of the sitting, will be recorded by Hansard Broadcasting Services. During waiting periods and recesses, a wide chamber shot will be maintained with audio reduced to ambient sound. (Full sound will be restored for calling of the division list.)
3. Full television and webcast coverage of Committee of Supply, Section A, will be done for the 38th and subsequent Parliaments. Proceedings will be webcast live and televised during lunch recess, in the case of morning sittings, and after the House adjourns.
4. Full television and webcast coverage of Select Standing Committees in the Douglas Fir Committee Room will be done when explicitly provided for within the Terms of Reference of a committee and approved by the House.
5. Full audio-only live webcast coverage of all select standing and special committees, wherever they occur, will be done for the 38th and subsequent Parliaments.
6. Only the member who has been recognized by the Speaker or Chairperson, or the Speaker or

Chairperson, shall be recorded by the television cameras, with the following exceptions:

- (a) Gallery shots of visitors will be done on a case-by-case basis with explicit approval from the Speaker or the Clerk.
 - (b) Floor shots of dignitaries will be done during special circumstances (excluding Throne and Budget speeches) on a case-by-case basis and with explicit approval from the Speaker or the Clerk. Prior approval is not required for routine government staff introductions during Estimates.
 - (c) Zoom shots will be done during Oral Questions and lengthy speeches, such as Budget Speech, Throne Speech and designated lead speakers on Address in Reply, and only during periods of good attendance in the area adjacent to the zoom shot.
 - (d) Wide applause shots of the floor of the House will be done during Introductions only and with prior approval from the Speaker or the Clerk. Applause shots may not be used during introductions of political personalities.
7. The camera shot of each member should be framed in a consistently similar manner — approximately from the waist to a point eight to twelve inches above the member's head.
8. Camera shots of the Speaker or Chairperson may vary: a medium chamber shot when members are being recognized; a medium or close-up shot when rulings or points of order are being addressed; possible side camera shots to facilitate smooth camera switching.
9. Split screens, cut-aways or reaction shots will not be permitted.

10. Members speaking will be identified on screen by name with either party affiliation and riding, if a private member, or portfolio, if a member of cabinet. As well, the leaders of the opposition parties will be identified as such.
11. Textual information detailing the business or proceeding in which the House or Committee is engaged will be shown on screen to keep the viewers informed as much as possible, depending on time constraints. Additional general informational credits and graphics about orders of business may be broadcast outside normal sitting hours.
12. Broadcasts of the proceedings may be shown by television stations and/or cable operators live or by means of recordings. The broadcasting of debates is to be done without purposeful distortion.
13. Master recordings of the complete current session will be stored in the television production centre facility. Prior sessions are stored offsite. Hansard Services technicians will provide copies for members and officers of the assembly upon request. Copies can be requested on-line by those with access to the Legislative Assembly intranet, (<http://intranet/08-hansard/hansard-television.asp>) via email (HansardTV@leg.bc.ca), by contacting the Manager of Broadcasting services at 356-9374 or by contacting Hansard reception desk at 387-3681.
14. The use of audio-video recordings of the debates of the Legislature is forbidden during any British Columbia provincial election, by-election or any public event of a politically partisan nature.
15. These guidelines shall be enforced by the Speaker. Specific concerns of members regarding the televising of the proceedings shall not be raised in the House. Such concerns should be raised in private with the Speaker.

16. The television guidelines shall stand referred to the Legislative Assembly Management Committee. The Committee may conduct periodic reviews of the televising of legislative proceedings and consider such matters or concerns as may be referred to the Committee by the Speaker or by the House.
17. A breach of these guidelines will be considered a contempt of the House.
18. Live video of House proceedings, including Committee A and Select Standing Committee proceedings in the Douglas Fir Room, audio from meetings in committee rooms, and video of press conferences (produced by the Public Affairs Bureau) are broadcast on the Legislature's internal cable television system on channels 55 (House), 56 (Douglas Fir Room), 57 (Birch Room), 58 (Travelling Committees), 59 (Travelling Committees), 60 (Legislative Information Channel) and 61 (Press Theatre).
19. Exterior shots of Opening Day ceremonies, including the arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor and her/his entrance into the Parliament Buildings, will be recorded with due care to avoid filming demonstrations or disturbances.

Further information on television coverage can be obtained from the office of the Director of Hansard Services at 387-0944.

Television Suggestions

Wearing bright white clothing in the chamber is not recommended, because the high contrast requires camera adjustments that are less flattering to the face. Strong, repetitive patterns interact with the camera and can cause a distracting rainbow pattern to appear. For best results, choose bright, primary colours, which show up well on camera, or more muted or pastel shades. In order to ensure good audio capture, please do not knock or reposition the microphone, or cover the microphone with your papers.

Hansard Audio-Visual Services

Hansard Broadcasting Services offers the following services to Members and their staff:

1. DVD, multimedia files or VHS recordings of major speeches or events of particular significance to members and which have been recorded by Hansard Broadcasting Services.
2. Assistance in selecting new audio-visual equipment, such as televisions, DVDs and VCRs.

MEMBERS' SERVICES

Listed below is an outline of Members' Services within the Legislative Assembly. For further clarification on any of these items, please contact the Office of the Legislative Comptroller (356-8586).

OFFICE ACCOMMODATION AND EQUIPMENT

Each member is provided with an office in the Parliament Buildings. Office furniture is supplied by the Accommodation and Real Estate Services (Shared Services BC, Ministry of Labour and Citizens' Services) on the instructions of the Speaker, and standard office equipment is provided by the Legislative Assembly.

COMMITTEE ROOMS

Legislative committee rooms are managed by the Sergeant-at-Arms staff and may be reserved by telephoning 387-0952.

COURIER SERVICES

The Sergeant-at-Arms staff are responsible for receipt and dispatch of courier items, and security screening of incoming courier items. Telephone 356-8236 for assistance. Courier companies' staff are not permitted within the Parliament Buildings.

STATIONERY AND SUPPLIES

Members' personalized letterhead, envelopes and business cards, in reasonable quantities, are provided by the Legislative Assembly. No party affiliation is permitted to appear on legislative stationery. If desired, stationery for caucus staff may be provided by caucus. The Sergeant-at-Arms supply office (387-0955) provides members' legislative offices with standard consumable office supplies. Other non-generic material or personal-preference items may be provided by caucus budgets. Stationery and supplies for use in a constituency office must be provided by the member's constituency office allowance.

OFFICE MAIL

Members' personally addressed mail is paid for by the Legislative Assembly. Members may not print or mail at assembly expense any material of a political or partisan nature, or material using mailing lists.

TELEPHONE AND FACSIMILES

Members have access to the provincial government telephone network (PROVNET) from their legislative offices. In the constituency office, the assembly will provide a PROVNET voice package consisting of three telephones with a dedicated line for each set and voice mail, plus one facsimile line. Upon request, secondary constituency offices will be provided with one PROVNET voice line, telephone and voice mail. High speed Internet access (normally through Shaw Cable or Telus ADSL) will be provided in the constituency office.

Each private Member will be provided with a cellular telephone. Members are requested to review their account every month and reimburse the assembly for personal calls. Members are issued long-distance calling cards for placing legislative business-related calls from outside Canada or where cellular telephone service is not available.

CAUCUS STAFF

Each party caucus determines their own staffing requirements within their annual global budget allocation and is responsible for establishing terms and conditions of employment for their staff.

LEGISLATIVE DINING ROOM

The Legislative Dining Room operates when the House is in session, primarily to serve members and legislative officers and their guests. Caucus and legislative staff, members of the press gallery and others may also use the facilities. Reservation privileges, however, are available to members only, who are encouraged to make reservations before noon in order to guarantee seating during the peak lunch-hour period.

Members may pay in cash for their dining room charges or have them deducted from their bi-weekly indemnity cheques.

PARKING

Each member is designated one parking space adjacent to the building. The Sergeant-at-Arms office administers the members' parking, under the authority of the Speaker.

MEMBERS' LOUNGE

The Members' Lounge, known as the Ned DeBeck Lounge, exists to assist Members of the Legislative Assembly in performing their duties by providing a comfortable, private, informal area in which to relax, meet other members, or receive guests. Located in Room 357 on the third floor of the Library Wing of the Parliament Buildings, it is named after the late Mr. Ned DeBeck, Q.C., Clerk of the Legislative Assembly from 1949 to 1973.

The lounge is kept ready for MLAs' use at all times. Members may use it for any official or private purpose, so long as other members are not excluded or inconvenienced. The division bells from the House will ring in the lounge. The lounge is comfortably furnished and has a telephone (387-3064), a large-screen television set that will receive all cable channels including the House channel, VCR and DVD machines, and a piano. In order to preserve MLAs' privacy, members of the Legislative Press Gallery and other news media representatives are excluded from the members' Lounge.

The lounge is administered by the Office of the Speaker. The Speaker's office can advise members on the arrangements for using the Lounge for special functions.

PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE MANUAL

Each member is entitled to receive a bound copy of MacMinn's Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, which may be obtained from the Office of the Clerk of the House.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Members may have their picture taken once per Parliament by the photographer who normally provides photographic services for Members of the Legislative Assembly or by another photographer of their choice. The maximum allowance is 75 black and white prints (maximum size 5" x 7") developed from the original per fiscal year. Reasonable costs are paid by the Assembly.

NEWSPAPERS

Copies of the major urban newspapers are delivered daily to private members' offices when the House is in session. The cost of these newspapers is covered by the Assembly. Newspaper subscriptions for ministers' offices are paid by the respective ministries.

GALLERIES

Reservations for admission to the Members' Gallery are made through the Sergeant-at-Arms Office at 387-0952.

SECURITY

The Sergeant-at-Arms is responsible for security in the Parliament Buildings and grounds. The security office near the main door is staffed 24 hours a day. For further information regarding the security service, contact the security desk at 387-5516 or the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms (Security) 387-1622. The number to call in emergencies is 387-5555.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT AND ARCHIVAL SERVICES

The British Columbia Archives and Records Service offers to all MLAs off-site storage for non-government records, including personal, political and constituency records, for up to five years after the date of retirement from the Legislature. Assistance with the various management services is available by contacting the Manager, Advisory and Training Services, British Columbia Archives and Records Service (387-4128).

NON-SMOKING POLICY

The Speaker has designated all indoor areas of the legislative precinct as non-smoking.

LEGISLATIVE COMPTROLLER

The Legislative Comptroller is the Senior Financial Officer of the Legislative Assembly. The Comptroller is responsible for directly advising the Clerk Assistant, the Clerk of the House, the Speaker, and members of the Legislative Assembly Management Committee regarding all matters of a financial nature, including the financial implications of planning and operational decisions. All managers of the Assembly are subject to functional direction and guidance from the Comptroller in matters related to management and control of the Assembly's system of financial administration.

The Comptroller plans, develops, directs, and evaluates the Assembly's financial and accounting programs and systems, including policy development, planning, budget preparation, revenue and expenditure control, asset control, contract administration, payroll and time keeping systems and financial reporting. The Comptroller oversees development of financial policies, systems and manuals regarding expenditure control, budget preparation, cash forecasts, accounts classification and coding, cost analysis, and accounting and payroll/leave procedures as they are applied to the Assembly. Responsibilities include continually evaluating the effectiveness of financial policies, systems and procedures.

A unique responsibility of the Comptroller is management of financial expenditures, payroll and leave not only for Assembly staff but also for Members and caucus and constituency staff. The Comptroller verifies that payments are legal charges against allotments approved by the Legislative Assembly Management Committee and/or Speaker, and are authorized in accordance with financial signing authorities. There are often differing views regarding allowances and expenditures, as Members may not accept the interpretation of regulations or guidelines. These differences are resolved by the Comptroller, who acts in an advisory role to all Members and advises the Speaker and the Clerk of the House of any situation that could adversely affect any Member of the Assembly.

COMMITTEE ALLOWANCES

Members of Select Standing and Special Committees of the Legislature, when authorized by the Legislative Assembly to sit during a period in which the House is adjourned, may claim for actual and reasonable expenses incurred in the discharge of their committee work. There is no salary for committee work. Contact the Clerk of Committees for details.

CAPITAL CITY ALLOWANCE

The Capital City Allowance is $150.00 per sitting day of the House for members outside the Victoria Capital Regional District who are required to stay overnight in Victoria. Members who reside within the Victoria Capital Regional District and are conducting legislative business and members who return to their constituency overnight are eligible to receive $51.50 per sitting day. During the legislative session, claims for the Capital City Allowance should be submitted to the Comptroller's office on a weekly basis. Members can make their claim by a memorandum identifying the dates and amounts, or completion of the travel claim form.

Normally claims should be for sitting days only. When claiming additional in-session days, either of the following conditions must apply:

- (1) Members who are required to remain in Victoria overnight on the last sitting day of the week (normally a Thursday or Friday night) due to requirements of the House or by travel necessity may claim the $150 allowance, rather than the $51.50 allowance for the last sitting day; and/or NOTE: Members do not claim Capital City Allowance on a travel day unless they are conducting legislative business for a substantial portion of that day.

- (2) Members who are required to arrive in Victoria on Sunday night due to requirements of the House or by travel necessity may apply for an additional $150.

Members may claim Capital City Allowance when conducting legislative business in Vancouver during a legislative session. Vancouver is defined as any location within the Greater Vancouver Regional District.

The Capital City Allowance is available to members out-of-session who are conducting legislative business in either Victoria or Vancouver. Members must claim for these out-of-session days as outlined above. Members not staying overnight in Vancouver will claim $51.50. Members staying overnight in Vancouver will claim $51.50 for meals and gratuities, plus actual accommodation costs (supported by receipts). Accommodation costs do not include meals, in-room movies, bar charges or cleaning of clothing. If a member stays with friends, they may claim $30 in lieu of accommodation charges.

CONSTITUENCY ASSISTANT AND OFFICE ALLOWANCE

Effective July 18, 2006, $9,916.67 per month, or $119,000.00 per fiscal year (plus the employer's share of compulsory payroll deductions) is made available to each member towards the actual operating costs, including staff salaries, of (a) constituency office(s). The allowance can be apportioned towards standard office expenses in a manner best suited to each member, and for office occupancy costs such as heat and light, if these are not included in the lease payments. Further guidance can be obtained from the Legislative Comptroller. The allowance is not to be used for political purposes, members' expenses, supplementing members' allowances, or acquiring an equity in real estate or in a motor vehicle.

Effective August 14, 1996, the Legislative Assembly will purchase and maintain furnishings and equipment for constituency offices. Please contact the Legislative Comptroller for details as to what is included in the standard inventory of furniture. Computers, telephones and printer/fax/photocopy equipment will be provided by the Legislative Assembly.

Leases for members' constituency office(s) should be submitted to the Legislative Comptroller for direct payment to the respective landlords. The full lease costs, including normal occupancy costs such as heat, apportioned amount of property taxes, common area expenses, parking, etc., provided these are stated in the lease, will be paid in addition to the above noted allowances.

The Legislative Assembly provides blanket insurance coverage for each constituency office. This policy will cover fire, theft, vandalism and personal liability (personal injuries sustained by persons visiting a constituency office). Any queries concerning this coverage should be directed to the Legislative Comptroller.

As a convenience to members, the payment of the salary, deductions and preparation of forms can be arranged through the Office of the Legislative Comptroller utilizing the Legislative Assembly payroll system. If a member chooses to pay an assistant directly from the constituency office allowance, the person in charge of administering the payment must submit both the employee's and employer's share of the appropriate payroll deductions (employment insurance, Canada Pension and income tax) to the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency and must prepare all necessary documents such as T4 slips. In either case, the constituency assistant is the direct employee of the member and is not an employee of the Legislative Assembly.

Constituency assistants may opt into the Public Service Pension Plan by completing an application form. The application form will be forwarded to the BC Pension Corporation and deductions will commence when it has been received. The constituency assistant must be on the government payroll system in order to make application. Please contact the Office of the Legislative Comptroller for details.

All members are required to register as employers with the Workers' Compensation Board and pay the established premiums for coverage for their constituency staff. Members must complete the necessary form, available from the Legislative Comptroller, and submit the form directly to the Board. Members will be advised by the Board as to the amount of premium to be paid and the due date for payment.

Following each general election or by-election, a new member will receive a $2000.00 start up allowance for their constituency office. A returning member will receive $1000.00.

Effective January 31, 1995 all equipment and furniture purchased in whole or in part with public funds by MLAs for use in their constituency office(s) remains the property of the Legislative Assembly. Departing members will be responsible for disposing of all items on their inventory lists (e.g., private sale, auction, transfer to incoming member, etc.) with the proceeds being remitted to the Office of the Legislative Comptroller.

DEDUCTION FOR ABSENCE

A deduction of $300.00 a day is made from a member's annual indemnity allowance for every day beyond ten that he or she is absent from a sitting of the assembly for reasons other than official business, illness, or another reason approved by the Speaker (See section 10 of the Legislative Assembly Allowances and Pension Act). It is also incumbent on the member to keep a record of his or her attendance and to submit this information to the Clerk of the House between the 1st and 15th of January and July of each year.

TRAVEL

TRAVEL CLAIM FORM

When claiming capital city allowance, travel expenses between capital and constituency and business travel, members should complete a Travel Claim Form. It would assist the Legislative Comptroller's office if these forms are fully completed. If expenses are charged on the member's Visa Corporate Travel Card, the details of the expenditure should be recorded in the appropriate portion of the Travel Claim Form. This will allow for easy reconciliation of monthly Visa statements. The itemized hotel bill, car rental agreement, air flight coupon, BC Ferry receipt, etc., along with a copy of the signed charge flimsy, should be attached to the monthly Visa statement.

TRAVEL ALLOWANCE BETWEEN CAPITAL AND CONSTITUENCY

Members are permitted 52 return trips per fiscal year when there is only one session during the year. This is increased by eight trips (total 60) when there are two sessions during the year (e.g., spring and fall sessions). In addition, members who hold executive positions in their respective caucuses may claim a further five trips per fiscal year. Members may use these trips for themselves, their spouse or dependants (i.e., children claimed for income tax purposes) or constituency staff as outlined below:

Spouse/Dependants up to 52 (or 60) return trips per fiscal year as a claim against the total of 52 (or 60) trips allocated to each member.

Constituency Assistant each member may designate up to four of the 52 (or 60) trips for use by the constituency assistant in any fiscal year.

Legislative Assistant each member may designate up to two of the 52 (or 60) trips for use by the legislative assistant in any fiscal year.

Travel allowance is not claimed if a member's constituency is within the capital (Capital Regional District or Greater Vancouver Regional District).

When a member (whose constituency is outside the Capital Regional District of the Greater Vancouver Regional District) initially travels from the member's constituency to Victoria and then has a return trip from Victoria to Vancouver before returning to the member's constituency, the travel cost will be deemed to be an additional constituency to capital trip.

Claims for travel between a constituency and the capital may include private vehicle or public transportation costs to and from airports and airport parking costs. There is no provision for meals, accommodation or other expenses. Use of a private vehicle for these trips or portions thereof may be claimed by a memorandum submitted to the Legislative Comptroller at rates approved by LAMC ($0.47 per kilometre until March 31, 2007, and $0.48 per kilometre effective April 1, 2007), but must not exceed equivalent economy air fare. Trips between Vancouver and Victoria may be claimed either as a capital/constituency trip or a business trip. Further guidelines are as follows:

Air travel — The allowance permits use of economy-class air travel only. In ridings or under unusual circumstances where there are no commercial flights available, MLAs may use a charter service.

Air travel insurance — Members are insured under the government air travel insurance plan when travelling on business on commercial aircraft, including limited ground travel to and from the airport.

Disabled members — Travel expenses incurred by personal attendants accompanying physically disabled members may be claimed. (See General travel guidelines No. 12.)

IN-CONSTITUENCY TRAVEL ALLOWANCE

In each fiscal year an allowance for travel within a member's riding is paid quarterly. The annual allowances by riding are as follows:

Urban — $3,190

Members who represent coastal/remote ridings are eligible to claim an additional maximum of $8,580 per fiscal year upon submission of receipts for actual personal travel expenses incurred, including accommodation and meals.

Effective November 1, 1993, members' constituency assistants (except those representing urban ridings) are permitted to claim for travel costs incurred while travelling within their ridings. The allowance, based on a maximum of one-third of the allowance provided to members in a fiscal year for each classification of riding, is as follows:

Classification of riding	CA's Annual Allowance
Semi-urban	$1,584
Semi-rural	2,105
Rural	2,375
Coastal/Remote	2,860

This allowance is intended to cover normal travel expenses, such as mileage, taxis, hotels, meals, etc., incurred by constituency assistants while travelling within the riding in the usual performance of their duties. The current mileage rate for the use of private vehicles on official business is $0.47 per kilometre ($0.48 effective April 1, 2007). Claims should be prepared in memo format, providing some brief details of the dates, type of expenses, destinations, etc., and signed by the constituency assistant and the member for reimbursement. Receipts must be retained in the constituency office files for record and audit purposes. If the constituency assistant should accompany the member on a trip, separate receipts or similar documentation should be obtained to ensure accurate records and avoid confusion over to whom the expenses relate.

BUSINESS TRAVEL

Members are permitted to claim actual and reasonable expenses for up to eight trips between their constituency and any other location in British Columbia on business related to their roles as an MLA. Members may claim trips between Victoria and Vancouver as either business travel or as capital/constituency travel.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL — AUTHORIZED TRAVEL

Under certain conditions specified in the Legislative Assembly Allowances and Pension Act, members who have received prior written approval from the Speaker or the Executive Council to act in accordance with the relevant section of the Act or who are parliamentary secretaries or members of various designated entities may claim reimbursement of actual travel expenses through and in accordance with regulations established by the Ministry of Finance.

SPEAKER-AUTHORIZED TRAVEL

Members travelling with the prior authorization of the Speaker in connection with specific duties, such as attendance at Commonwealth Parliamentary Association functions, may claim expenses as follows:

1. Use of a private motor vehicle
 - (a) Distance allowance: $0.47 per kilometre until March 31, 2007, $0.48 per kilometre effective April 1, 2007; or as approved by LAMC.
 - (b) Parking charges.
2. Use of a rental motor vehicle
 - (a) Actual rental and operational costs, including gas.
 - (b) Parking charges.
3. Actual transportation expenses — e.g., air, train, boat, bus and taxi fares.
4. Actual charges for telephone calls, cables, telegrams.
5. Actual accommodation expenses.
6. (a) A per diem allowance of $51.50, or $25.75 per half-day effective April 1, 2000 or part thereof, while in Canada, or the same amount in U.S. funds while in the United States of America. This is claimable when travelling both to and from and at the destination and includes payment for meals and miscellaneous out-of-pocket expenses for which receipts are not required (e.g., porters, papers, tips, dry-cleaning, etc.).
 - (b) Outside Canada and the United States of America, a per diem allowance for meals based on rates established by the Canada Department of External Affairs, plus $20, or 30% of the per diem allowance, whichever is greater, for non-meal-related expenses. Contact the Legislative Comptroller's office for details.
 - (c) On a member's application, approved by the Speaker, the Legislative Comptroller shall reimburse actual expenses incurred while out of Canada and the United States in place of the allowance set out in section 7(b) upon presentation of receipts, if practical.

- (d) Reimbursement of reasonable expenses incurred that relate directly to travel outside Canada, including the costs of visas and passports, inoculations, service fees for travellers' cheques, bottled water, preventive medicine (e.g., malaria tablets), additional dry cleaning and laundry costs, car rental insurance, additional baggage insurance and premiums for additional medical insurance to provide coverage equivalent to that available in the province under the BC Medical Plan.
- 7. (a) Subject to the Speaker's prior approval, in addition to the allowance referred to in item 6, actual meeting, conference, function and staff consultation expenses.
- (b) Actual expenses of hospitality and entertainment as approved by the Speaker.
- 8. (a) The allowances referred to in items 7(a) and (b) are authorized whether expended or not, but all other reimbursements are authorized only for expenditures actually made for which the member has not been, nor will be, reimbursed by any parties.
- (b) Except for allowances referred to in items 7(a) and (b), and except for taxi fares and minor sundry travelling expenses, vouchers (e.g., filmies, receipts, bills, flight coupons, etc.) are required where practical and a description must also be given of the nature and purpose of the expenditure.
- 9. The allowances and expenses referred to herein are in addition to any salary and indemnity, health, medical insurance and pension plans to which a member is entitled as a Member of the Legislative Assembly.
- 10. All claims and accounts are to be submitted promptly to the Legislative Comptroller for approval and payment or rejection. Any items at issue or requiring clarification, or any exceptions or additions to allowances or expenses beyond those referred to herein, are to be referred to the Speaker for consideration, modification, final approval, payment or rejection.

11. Where personal and business travel are combined:

- (a) reimbursement is to be based on the lesser of actual transportation expenses or the most economical transportation expenses that would have been incurred had personal travel not taken place, and;
- (b) per diem allowances will not be paid and expenses incurred will not be reimbursed except to the extent that they would have been paid or reimbursed had the personal travel not taken place.

12. A personal attendant required to travel with a physically disabled member in the discharge of duties assigned by the Speaker may have their expenses reimbursed. Specifically, a personal attendant will be reimbursed for travel expenses (transportation, meals, accommodation and out-of-pocket expenses) not to exceed those set out by the Legislative Assembly Management Committee. The spouse of a physically disabled member may be considered as a personal attendant.

13. Spousal travel (economy class) and expenses may be authorized by the Speaker.

MEMBERS' BENEFITS

The following are brief descriptions of the benefit plans available to Members of the Legislative Assembly. For additional information or clarification, inquiries should be made to the office of the Legislative Comptroller (356-8586).

MLA GROUP REGISTERED RETIREMENT SAVINGS PLAN

An optional MLA Group Registered Retirement Savings Plan has been implemented with Standard Life Assurance Company of Canada as the carrier.

The Legislative Assembly contributes, bi-weekly, direct to Standard Life, 9% of the Members Basic Compensation. Members may also contribute through payroll deduction, up to 9% of their Basic Compensation.

Members can dispose of their individual account in the Group RRSP when they cease to be Members, including transfers to another plan.

CANADA PENSION PLAN

Members must contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. Premiums are deducted from their bi-weekly payroll cheques. Members who are receiving Canada Pension are responsible for providing documentation to the payroll office for exemption.

MEDICAL PLAN

Participation in the Medical Services Plan of British Columbia is optional and effective the first day of the month following application. This is a 100% employer-paid "taxable benefit".

EXTENDED HEALTH CARE PLAN AND DENTAL PLAN

An extended health plan and a dental plan are available to Members of the Legislative Assembly after serving six full months as a member. The extended health plan is designed to partially reimburse specified medical expenses or services not covered by MSP, Pharmacare, or the Hospital Insurance Plan. The dental plan is designed to cover basic dentistry or the services that are routinely available in the office of a general practicing dentist and are necessary to restore or maintain teeth. Some deductibles, restrictions, and maximums may apply to both plans. For further details contact the Legislative Comptroller (356-8586).

Details on the plans can be seen at the following website:
http://www.bcpublicservice.ca/benefits/plan_details/health.htm

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE PLAN

Every Member of the Legislative Assembly is required to participate in the group life insurance plan. Coverage is based on three times the amount of the basic compensation and special allowances.

The government pays the premium for the first $80,000, with the member paying the premium ($0.16 per $1,000 per month) for coverage above $80,000. The federal Income Tax Act requires that premiums paid by the government be treated as a taxable benefit. This means the taxable benefit will be $12.80 per month. Coverage is effective the first day a member is elected and will terminate at the end of the month that a member ceases to be a member.

The optional dependant group life provides coverage payable to the member upon death of a spouse and/or dependant children). The premium is $2.00 per month regardless of the number of dependants. Full coverage details can be obtained from the "Member's Benefit Guide".

TRANSITIONAL ASSISTANCE

Transitional assistance is available to members who meet certain conditions. For further details contact the Legislative Comptroller at 356-8586.

SERVICES TO MEMBERS

The Library is here to help Members and their staff with their research and information needs. Whether for a detailed research question or a quick fact, our librarians provide expert, prompt and confidential assistance. The Library is open to Members, caucus staff, and Assembly staff. Provided there is no conflict with the needs of core users, its resources are made available to staff of the provincial government.

Service to MLAs is always paramount. A direct request from an MLA takes precedence over other Library users.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Each request for information is treated in strictest confidence and with impartiality and objectivity. The Library will not disclose any details about borrowing transactions or research requests.

LIBRARY COLLECTION

The Library collects most BC government publications, many in electronic form. The collection is very strong in the areas of legislative material, political science, economics, and other public policy areas. The Library receives over 350 magazines, and provides a collection of popular fiction and non-fiction for recreational reading. Current affairs shows such as Voice of BC are recorded onto DVD and can be signed out.

PUBLIC EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

Public Education and Outreach offers a variety of services for Members, including: the Tour program, the Legislative Internship Program, the Teachers' Institute on Parliamentary Democracy, Parliamentary Procedure Workshops, publications, and gifts.

TOUR PROGRAM

Members may reserve group tours of the building through the tour office at 387-3046. This office coordinates the allocation for school and group visits to the public galleries and arranges a meeting with their MLA. Photographs of school groups with their MLA are arranged with school permission. Also available are staff orientation tours and VIP tours for dignitaries.

LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The Legislative Internship Program offers Canadian university graduates with an interest in public affairs an opportunity to observe the legislative process first hand and to provide Members of the Legislative Assembly with additional assistance during the parliamentary session.

Applicants are selected on the basis of their academic standing, references, maturity, non-partisanship and ability to assist Members. After a four-week Ministry assignment, interns are assigned to a particular party caucus, and are also paired up with an MLA mentor during this time. Interns also spend time in a constituency office. The program is managed by Public Education and Outreach with support of the Academic Director from Simon Fraser University.

PUBLICATIONS AND GIFTS

Public Education and Outreach has developed a variety of educational materials to promote a better understanding of the work of MLAs and the parliamentary system. The following resources are available free of charge to Members:

1. Brochures (all available in French):
 - Welcome to the House
 - The Speaker of the House
 - Members of the Legislative Assembly
 - How a Bill Becomes Law

- Parliamentary Committees
- Question Period
- The Role of Government and Opposition
- Hansard

2. Temporary Tattoos.
3. Full colour brochure on the Parliament Buildings.
4. Discover Your British Columbia poster for students with activities on reverse.
5. Promotional laminated bookmark.
6. Fact Sheets on BC Symbols and Hansard.

There are also a growing number of protocol and souvenir gifts available at a 20% discount to Members including educational resources, jewelry, stationery items, speciality items and ornaments. All can be viewed online at <http://intranet/10-public/pubs-gifts/index.htm>.

COMMONWEALTH PARLIAMENTARY ASSOCIATION

The Commonwealth Parliamentary Association (CPA) is an association of Commonwealth parliamentarians, which provides a means of regular communication among members of Commonwealth parliaments. The Association seeks to foster understanding and cooperation amongst parliamentarians and to promote the study of and respect for parliamentary institutions.

The CPA was founded in 1911 and is composed of branches formed in legislatures in Commonwealth countries. Branches are grouped geographically into eight regions, of which Canada forms one distinct region. An executive committee, composed of the officers of the Association and representatives from each of the regions, is vested with the control and management of the activities and business of the CPA. A secretariat, located in London, manages the day-to-day affairs of the Association. The Association is financed by membership fees paid annually by each branch.

There are 13 autonomous branches in the Canadian region of the CPA, British Columbia being one of those branches. The president of the branch is the Speaker, and all members of the assembly are members of the Association. The Clerk of the House is the secretary of the British Columbia branch.

A regional council is responsible for the management of the activities and business of the Canadian region. Currently, the Clerk of the Senate acts as executive secretary and treasurer to the Canadian region. The general operating expenses of the Canadian region are financed by an annual levy paid by each of the branches.

Each year, a regional conference is hosted by one of the Canadian branches. The agenda for this conference is devoted to matters of current political interest to members from across the country. In the fall, a regional seminar on parliamentary practice is hosted by a branch. The Canadian region also sponsors seminars on topical matters, to which the British Columbia branch sends a delegation. The BC Branch encourages Members and Officers to attend these Regional Conferences and Seminars.

The region supports the publication of the Canadian Parliamentary Review, which contains articles on subjects of parliamentary interest, Speakers' rulings, information on elections, appointments, retirements and deaths, and reports on the activities of each of the branches. The British Columbia branch contributes articles, reports and other information on a regular basis. Members are encouraged to provide articles for the Review.

The headquarters secretariat in London publishes The Parliamentarian, which contains articles from legislatures and information on parliamentary activities throughout the Commonwealth. (Both The Parliamentarian and the Canadian Parliamentary Review are distributed free of charge on a quarterly basis to all members of the British Columbia Legislature.)

Representatives from all the CPA branches meet annually in a Commonwealth country to debate significant parliamentary matters and topics of immediate concern to the Commonwealth and to the world.

The Office of the Clerk will provide letters of introduction to any member of the assembly travelling to a Commonwealth country.

ASSEMBLÉE PARLEMENTAIRE DE LA FRANCOPHONIE (APF)

Founded in 1967 in Luxembourg, the Assemblée Parlementaire de la Francophonie (APF) is the sole interparliamentary organization representing the French-speaking world. It is composed of over 60 parliaments over five continents, grouped into three regions: Europe, Africa and America.

The America Region of the APF brings together parliamentarians from Canada (federal and provincial), Haiti, Louisiana, Maine and Saint Lucia.

The objectives of the America Region of the APF is to extend the influence of the French language and to defend and promote the French culture in totally or partially French-speaking areas of the American continent.

Through the study of cultural, economic and social issues and the resulting resolutions and initiatives, support is offered by French-speaking parliamentarians to the French-speaking communities, in a spirit of collaboration.

The America Region is a natural forum for debate, exchange of information and identification of initiatives concerning questions of interest to French-speaking parliamentarians. It wishes to reinforce the cooperation and solidarity between people who share the French language. In doing so, it maintains regular communications with the principal representatives of the community associations involved in the defence and promotion of linguistic and cultural expression in French, in the America Region of the APF.

In Canada, there are 10 autonomous sections, Canada forming one distinct section and British Columbia also being one of the sections.

BC MLAs wishing to be members of the BC section must understand and speak French as all the deliberations at APF conferences and meetings are in French without simultaneous interpretation, the raison d'être of the APF is to promote French among parliamentarians.

The president of the BC section is elected by its members. The Clerk or designate is the Secretary of the BC Section.

The America Region holds an annual conference, the Regional Assembly, hosted by a different jurisdiction. The BC Section encourages its members and officers to attend the annual conferences. This Regional Assembly is composed of parliamentarians of all sections of the America Region. French-speaking members of the continent's other parliaments are also invited as observers. The Assembly meets each year to debate issues of interest to French-speaking parliamentarians and to define the orientations, the principles and the actions of the America Region.

The Presidents' Conference, the regional executive, monitors and implements the decisions taken by the Regional Assembly. It meets at least twice a year.

The Regional Secretariat is administered by the Regional Administrative Secretary assisted by the Administrative Secretaries of the member sections. Located in Quebec City, it ensures the implementation of the decisions taken by the Regional Assembly and the Presidents' Conference.

The general operating expenses of the America Region are financed by an annual levy paid by each of our sections.

The America Region publishes, twice each year, the Bulletin Amérique which contains articles on subjects of parliamentary interest and acts as a communication link between APF parliamentarians and French-speaking countries and ensures a regular exchange of information.

The international secretariat of the APF resides in Paris and coordinates an annual APF international francophonie conference, hosted by a different country, grouping all regions.

STATUTORY OFFICERS

AUDITOR GENERAL

The Auditor General is an Officer of the Legislature. He is non-partisan, objective and independent of government. He serves the people of British Columbia and their elected representatives by conducting audits and advising on how well government is managing its responsibilities and resources. He reports directly to the Legislative Assembly.

The Auditor General is supported by an Office with a staff complement of 80 - 90 people. The Office's goals are to provide the Legislative Assembly with credible, relevant and timely information on whether government has in place:

- sound financial administration and reporting;
- well-managed provincial programs, services and resources;
- comprehensive public sector accountability reporting; and
- effective public sector governance.

To deliver on these goals, the Office incorporates best practices in its work and as an employer.

In 2003, the Legislative Assembly enacted a revised Auditor General Act setting out a comprehensive and broad mandate that covers 19 ministries and approximately 150 organizations within the government's reporting entity — Crown corporations, schools, universities, colleges and hospitals/health organizations. As part of this mandate, the Office is responsible for assessing over $34 billion in provincial finances, programs/services and accountability information.

The Act requires the Auditor General to audit the government's annual summary financial statements — this is the Office's single largest audit. The Auditor General may also be appointed the financial statement auditor of any organization that is included in the government reporting entity, subject to the approval of the Select Standing Committee of Public Accounts.

The Act also specifies that the Auditor General carry out examinations focusing on, among other things, whether government ministries or organizations are operating economically, efficiently and effectively; and whether the performance information contained in government annual reports is adequate. Examples would include audits of how well a major education or health program is managed.

The Auditor General's financial statement opinions are published together with the organization's financial statements. Other types of audits are published by the Office as stand-alone reports and tabled in the Legislative Assembly. These reports are reviewed by the Select Standing Committee on Public Accounts at its public meetings. The Public Accounts Committee then makes recommendations to the Legislative Assembly about the audit reports, including acceptance or rejection of the report's recommendations.

The Office's corporate accountability and performance reports, such as the annual report, are also tabled in the Assembly, the Select Standing Committee on Finance and Governance Services. It is this committee that makes recommendations on the Office's annual budget to the Legislative Assembly.

In summary, the Auditor General fulfills a unique role in directly providing the Legislative Assembly with independent, credible and high quality information about government and its operations. He meets regularly with members of the Legislative Assembly and its select standing committees as part of this role to discuss the work of his Office.

CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER

The Chief Electoral Officer is responsible for the fair and impartial administration of Provincial elections and referendums, recalls and initiatives under the authority of the Election Act, Recall and Initiative Act, Referendum Act and Constitutional Amendment Approval Act.

As one of the statutory Officers of the Legislature, the Chief Electoral Officer reports directly to the Legislative Assembly through the Speaker. As an independent Officer, the Chief Electoral Officer has the authority to make orders, regulations and exercise the electoral oversight responsibilities of the position in an impartial manner. The Chief Electoral Officer cannot be a member of a political party, make contributions to a party or candidate, or vote in any provincial elections. The term of office for the Chief Electoral Officer is from the date of appointment until 12 months after the date set for the return of the last writ for the second election for which the Chief Electoral Officer is responsible. The Chief Electoral Officer may be reappointed to further terms of office.

The Election Act establishes an Election Advisory Committee, which is chaired by the Chief Electoral Officer. The committee's membership is derived from two representatives appointed for each registered political party that is represented in the Legislative Assembly and one representative appointed for each registered political party that had candidates in at least half of the electoral districts at the immediately proceeding general election. The role of the committee is to advise the Chief Electoral Officer on matters regarding electoral financing, proposed legislative amendments, and proposed regulations.

In keeping with the spirit of a fair and open electoral system, the Chief Electoral Officer has the authority to:

- conduct periodic investigations of the financial affairs of registered political parties, registered constituency associations, candidates, leadership contestants and registered advertising sponsors for the purpose of ensuring compliance with the Election Act;
- conduct audits of the accounts of individuals and organizations involved in the electoral process; and
- conduct investigations of any matter that may constitute a contravention of the Election Act or the Recall and Initiative Act.

The Chief Electoral Officer reports annually to the Legislative Assembly through the Speaker on the activities of Elections BC. After each election, referendum, or plebiscite a report is also presented that outlines the proceedings, results and costs.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST COMMISSIONER

The Members' Conflict of Interest Act, which came into effect December 21, 1990, provides a statutory framework for:

- defining standards of official conduct for Members of the Legislative Assembly;
- providing mechanisms for the early identification and resolution of potential conflicts of interest;
- investigating alleged conflicts of interest;
- publicly disclosing the financial interests of Members of the Legislative Assembly.

The cornerstone of the Members' Conflict of Interest Act is the appointment of a Commissioner who is an independent officer of the Legislative Assembly.

The Commissioner performs three separate but related roles:

First, the Commissioner acts as an adviser to members. MLAs need to know what their obligations are and that the steps they have taken or propose to take will fulfill those obligations.

Second, the Commissioner meets with each member at least annually to review the disclosure of the member's financial interests and general obligations imposed by the Act.

The third role of the Commissioner is to undertake investigations and inquiries into alleged contraventions of the Act.

The Commissioner may provide written Opinions on application by any individual member, or by Executive Council, or by the Legislative Assembly, or by a member of the public and may at the request of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, or of the Legislative Assembly undertake such special assignments as the Commissioner considers appropriate.

Disclosure forms and additional information can be obtained from:

INFORMATION AND PRIVACY COMMISSIONER

The Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia is appointed pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), which came into force in 1993 following unanimous approval by the Legislative Assembly. The current Commissioner, David Loukidelis, was re-appointed in 2006 to serve a second six-year term.

The Commissioner's responsibilities include enforcing compliance with FIPPA as well as with the private sector privacy rules found in the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA), which came into force in 2004. PIPA covers the entire British Columbia private sector, for profit and not for profit. It does not cover federally regulated private sector organizations, which are required to comply with the federal Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA).

Finally, the Commissioner serves as the Registrar of Lobbyists under the Lobbyists Registration Act, enacted in 2001. That Act requires those who are paid to lobby government to register and to provide publicly available details of their lobbying activities.

Scope of Authority under FIPPA

The Commissioner has a continuing responsibility to ensure that ministries, Crown corporations, boards, agencies, commissions, local governments, universities, colleges, schools, self-governing professional bodies and other public bodies comply with FIPPA. In broad terms, the Commissioner has the authority to:

- monitor compliance with FIPPA's access to information and privacy provisions;
- inform the public about their rights and public bodies' responsibilities under FIPPA;
- investigate complaints regarding protection of personal information by public bodies; and
- consider appeals from the public of decisions made by public bodies in response to requests for records under FIPPA.

The right of public access provided by FIPPA does not extend to the records of a member of the Legislative Assembly that are not in the custody or control of a public body.

Officer of the Legislature

FIPPA provides for the appointment of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for a six-year term by the Lieutenant Governor on the unanimous recommendation of an all-party special committee of the Legislative Assembly. As an officer of the Legislative Assembly, the Commissioner is a non-partisan appointment and reports annually to the Legislative Assembly on the activities of the Commissioner's office.

Powers of the Information and Privacy Commissioner

The Information and Privacy Commissioner is responsible for monitoring compliance with FIPPA and ensuring that its purposes are achieved. The Commissioner has sole jurisdiction to investigate, audit or hear appeals on matters of privacy protection and freedom of information covered by FIPPA, and has authority to issue binding orders with respect to the access to information and privacy practices of public bodies.

The Commissioner's powers under the Personal Information Protection Act are similar to those under FIPPA.

MERIT COMMISSIONER

The Public Service Act establishes the office and powers of the Merit Commissioner, a statutory officer of the Legislature responsible for monitoring the application of the merit principle to public service appointments. The Commissioner has two primary duties: to conduct random audits of public service appointments and to serve as the final appeal in reviews of bargaining-unit staffing decisions.

Audit Process

The Merit Commissioner is required to conduct random audits to ensure that public service appointments are merit-based and that individuals are properly qualified for the positions to which they were appointed. The Commissioner reports the audit results to the deputy ministers or others having overall responsibility for the boards, agencies, commissions or organizations subject to audit.

Review Process

The Commissioner is also required to review the application of merit as the third and final step available to employee applicants who contest specific bargaining unit appointments.

The Merit Commissioner is responsible for establishing an expeditious review procedure, subject to the Public Service Act and the Review of Staffing Decisions Regulation. The Act permits the Commissioner to summarily dismiss a request for review under certain circumstances. When a review is conducted, the appointment is either upheld or the appointment or proposed appointment can be directed to be reconsidered. A review decision made by the Merit Commissioner is final and binding.

In reviewing appointment decisions, the Merit Commissioner has the protection and privilege accorded to judges of the Supreme Court, and the powers to summon witnesses, to enforce summons and to punish for contempt, through the application of sections 12, 15 and 16 of the Inquiry Act. The Merit Commissioner is generally empowered to access the premises or records pertinent to his or her duties as Merit Commissioner of any body under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Act, including ministries and any boards, commissions, agencies or organizations of the government designated by the Lieutenant Governor in Council as being subject to the Public Service Act.

An Officer of the Legislature

An independent, non-partisan officer of the Legislature, the Merit Commissioner is appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council following the unanimous recommendation of a special committee of the Legislative Assembly and a majority vote in the House.

The Merit Commissioner serves for a term of three years, with the possibility of reappointment for further three-year terms. The Office of the Merit Commissioner is allocated a budget under Vote 6 of the Estimates, and the Commissioner's budget requests and service plans are reviewed by the Assembly's Select Standing Committee on Finance and Government Services. The Merit Commissioner is required to report annually to the Legislative Assembly. The Merit Commissioner is prohibited from disclosing personal information, as defined in the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, relating to appointed individuals or those who participated in the hiring process.

Amendments to the Public Service Act in November 2005 designated the Merit Commissioner as a statutory officer of the Legislature, responsible to the Legislative Assembly. The Legislative Assembly appointed Joy Illington as the first independent Merit Commissioner on May 17, 2006.

OMBUDSMAN

The Office of the Ombudsman is British Columbia's independent voice for fairness. Established in 1979 (R.S.B.C. 1979 c.306) the office independently and impartially investigates complaints from people about unfair treatment by public authorities and works to resolve them. The office does not represent the complainants, nor the public authorities. It acts on behalf of the people of British Columbia and their interest in fair treatment (administrative justice).

Scope of Authority

The Ombudsman can investigate complaints of unfair treatment by over 2800 public authorities in British Columbia. These include provincial ministries; provincial boards and commissions (e.g., Workers' Compensation Board); provincial corporations (e.g., ICBC and BC Hydro); local governments; schools and school boards; colleges and universities; hospitals and regional health authorities; various pension boards of trustees; and miscellaneous authorities (e.g., College of Physicians and Surgeons). A full list of authorities is found in the schedule to the Ombudsman Act. The Legislative Assembly and the courts are not included within the Ombudsman's jurisdiction.

Unfair Treatment

Unfair treatment includes unlawful, unjust, oppressive, discriminatory, unreasonable, arbitrary, negligent or improper decisions, recommendations, actions or policies.

Powers of the Ombudsman

The Ombudsman can obtain information and documents; conduct hearings and take evidence under oath. Ombudsman investigations are confidential unless the Ombudsman decides to make the results public. The Ombudsman makes an Annual Report to the Legislative Assembly and the public on the work of the office. In addition, the Ombudsman issues reports on specific investigations of public interest.

Ultimately the Ombudsman's power is to comment publicly on a matter and make logical and well-reasoned recommendations for change or improvement. The Ombudsman cannot order, direct or implement change; that rests with the public authorities or the Legislative Assembly acting on the Ombudsman's recommendations.

POLICE COMPLAINT COMMISSIONER

The Police Complaint Commissioner is an independent Officer of the Legislature providing civilian oversight of the 11 Municipal Police forces in the Province, 2 Tribal Police Services, the Combined Forces Special Enforcement Unit — BC (formerly the BC Organized Crime Agency), and recently the Greater Vancouver Transportation Authority Police Service. Amendments to the Police Act were proclaimed July 1, 1998, and sets out a process by which the public can make complaints against the above-listed police agencies. The Commissioner is broadly responsible for overseeing that process. He or she may receive complaints from any source, and is required to maintain a record of complaints and their disposition. The Commissioner monitors the manner in which police departments investigate and conclude complaints made against them.

The Commissioner may confirm dispositions, order investigations, oversee mediation between the complainant and the police department, and refer serious matters to Crown Counsel for prosecution. The Commissioner has the power to order a public hearing on matters affecting the public interest.

REPRESENTATIVE FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

The Representative for Children and Youth is a statutory officer of the Legislature, established by the Representative for Children and Youth Act to oversee the revised child protection framework recommended by the April 2006 BC Children and Youth Review.

Under the Act, the Representative for Children and Youth has three basic functions: advocacy, monitoring and review. The advocacy and monitoring functions discussed below pertain to "designated services" while the review function pertains only to "reviewable services." Designated services are:

- Services or programs under the Adoption Act, the Child Care BC Act, the Child Care Subsidy Act, the Child, Family and Community Service Act, the Community Living Authority Act and the Youth Justice Act; and
- Early childhood development and care services, mental health services for children, addiction services for children, and services for youth and young adults during their transition to adulthood.

Reviewable services are:

- Services or programs under the Child, Family and Community Service Act and the Youth Justice Act; and
- Mental health services for children.

Advocacy

As an advocate, the Representative is responsible for supporting, assisting, informing and advising children and their families with regard to designated services or programs provided or funded by the government. This may involve:

- Providing information and advice to clients on how to access services, as well as how to become effective self advocates.
- Advocating on behalf of clients, and participating in decision-making processes affecting clients.
- Promoting the establishment of advocacy services in communities.

Monitoring

The Representative is mandated to increase the accountability of ministries and other public bodies responsible for the provision of designated services or programs provided or funded by government. The Representative's monitoring, reviewing and auditing functions may involve:

- Monitoring both the establishment and achievement of performance measures for program and service delivery.
- Monitoring quality assurance activities for program and service delivery.
- Undertaking or collaborating in research related to improving or addressing the needs of children and families.

Review

The review role of the Representative concerns the review, investigation and reporting of critical injuries and deaths of children as set out in Part 4 of the Act. The Representative may only review and investigate critical injuries or deaths of children who were themselves or whose families were receiving reviewable programs or services provided or funded by the government. With respect to the review function, the Representative is empowered to:

- Conduct a review for the purpose of identifying and analyzing recurring circumstances or trends to inform improvements to reviewable services or broader public policy initiatives.
- Investigate and report on the critical injury or death of a child.

An Officer of the Legislature

The Representative for Children and Youth is an independent, non-partisan officer of the Legislature. The Representative for Children and Youth may only be appointed by resolution of the Legislative Assembly upon the unanimous recommendation by a special committee of the Assembly. The Representative holds office for a term of five years, and may be reappointed for one further five-year term. The Office of the Representative for Children and Youth is allocated its own Vote in the Estimates, and its budget requests and service plans must be reviewed by the Assembly's Select Standing Committee on Finance and Government Services. The Representative is required to report annually to the Legislative Assembly through the Speaker, regarding the activities undertaken by his or her Office pursuant to the Representative for Children and Youth Act. Unique among the statutory officers, the Act also requires the Representative to report to the Select Standing Committee on Children and Youth, a committee established expressly to oversee this position.

The Legislative Assembly appointed Mary Ellen Turpel-Latond as the first Representative for Children and Youth on November 27, 2006.
